

Rep. Harris Seeks to End Little Rock Grab of U. S. Hospital Aid

Movie Note: "Bloodhounds of Broadway," showing at the Saenger theater this Wednesday and Thursday, is a top musical. I saw it in Little Rock last November. It's late getting to Hope, but the combination of a story by the late Damon Runyon and the singing and dancing of Mitzel Gaynor is worth waiting for. Best number in the show: Miss Gaynor's "Way Down South" — of Atlanta, G. A.

Radio Note: Haskell Jones concluded one of his radio programs Monday night with what he said was Rosemary Clooney's advice to a small-town girl preparing to go to the big city:

"Don't leave the sticks until you know the difference between the whistle of a wolf and the whippoorwill."

May have been the Irish song-bird's voice but it was some Broadway press agent who typed that wisecrack.

Hospital Note: The arrogance and selfishness of Little Rock in attempting to promote its own physical plant and equipment at the expense of public funds allotted the whole state of Arkansas was never better illustrated than by the present controversy over federal aid for hospitals.

As you know, Hempstead county was left high and dry when state officials diverted federal aid to the University Medical Center and St. Vincent's Infirmary, both in Little Rock—and so we are having to proceed with a 100-per-cent-county-financed $450,000 project instead of a $900,000 hospital with 50 per cent federal help.

Now the bill to extend hospital aid in future years is before the congress. The senate passed it in its old form but when the measure reached committee hearing in the house our congressmen, Dr. Harris of the Fourth Arkansas District, attacked on an amendment which infuriated the powers in Little Rock.

That's more, the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee accepted the amendment.

Rep. Harris proposes that in the future no more than 60 per cent of any state's total federal hospital aid be used in any one service area. That is, the Little Rock area in the future would be limited to a maximum of 60 per cent of the total Arkansas allocation. It now gets 100 per cent to the exclusion of all other cities and counties.

Now comes the Arkansas Gazette with a special dispatch by Elizabeth C. Carpenter from Washington last Sunday and points up the following Little Rock propaganda:

"The reasoning of the congressional man from El Dorado is that an injustice has been done to Hope and, he adds, to other projects in Arkansas by the decision several years ago by state officials that the large proportion of the state hospital allocation be used to build the medical center and St. Vincent's in Little Rock.

"As a result of this decision, hospitals throughout the state have had to mark time until the construction of the two big projects in Little Rock are completed.

"The Republican economy axe hasn't helped. . . . This means that in the next two years St. Vincent's and the Medical Center will be $700,000 behind what they counted on through 1955. It would probably take them under the present manner of allocating all the state funds to the two projects through 1957 to get all the federal share they have counted on.

"If the program is not again extended after 1957, Hope and other hospital-hungry towns will be left out in the cold.

"But if the Harris clause is retained by congress, the two big Little Rock projects will get way behind schedule.

"The root of the problem, which does not increase the kindred feeling between members of the Arkansas delegation, is an old and basic one: Not enough money to go 'round."

That, of course, is factually untrue. No matter how much money the congress appropriated for hospital aid to Arkansas Little Rock would scheme and threaten until he grabbed it all—which she has done in the past and is doing today—unless Congressman Harris manages to stop her.

And the dirtiest part of the Little Rock steal-out is this: Here in Hempstead county we have authorized a $450,000 bond issue pledging all our lands and buildings for its repayment, and we get no matching federal aid whatsoever. But Little Rock takes 100 per cent of the state's allotment and doesn't put up a dime of her local tax money, either Little Rock or Pulaski county. It's all federal and state money, at least as far as the Medical Center is concerned—and of course there are no county funds for St. Vincent's either, that being a church affiliation.

No community has a better case against its state-capital city than Hope and Hempstead county have, for the grasping hand of Little Rock has absolutely strangled the smaller towns and counties in their attempt to co-operate with the federal hospital aid program.

No matter how our state officials juggled authority in order to let Little Rock make off with this grab the eventual remedy lies in Washington—and Congressman Harris

For 3rd Straight Year County Farmers Find Themselves in Almost Impossible Situation

Many Sections of Arkansas Get Relief

By The Associated Press

A 50-day drought that had pushed Arkansas farmers to the brink of financial disaster was broken in scattered parts of North Arkansas yesterday.

Miles McPeck, agricultural statistician for the Federal Crop Reporting Service, said today that the heavy rains ranging up to three inches in Montgomery County — broke the drought in some fortunate areas.

But, the tardy summer sun continued to blast crops and pasture lands unabated in the southern sections of Arkansas, and still no relief was in sight.

A U. S. Weather Bureau forecast in Little Rock added that unless the other stricken areas get rain today, there appeared no immediate prospect further precipitation.

Cambodia Is Reluctant on Freedom Plan

PARIS (AP)—Prospects for talks on France's offer to negotiate greater independence for the three Associated States of Indochina—Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia—appeared bright today after Laotian officials came out in favor of the proposal. Only the Cambodians seemed reluctant to agree.

The Laotian Premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, declared in a statement issued here yesterday that he will summon key members of his Cabinet to begin talks as soon as possible. The prince is in France with his father, ailing King Sisavang Vong, who is undergoing treatment at a health resort.

The prince's statement was issued shortly after Viet Nam Chief of State Bao Dai and his government declared their support for the French proposals in a communique issued in Saigon.

Although Premier Pen Nouth of Cambodia apparently is holding out for complete independence, most Indochinese, including Cambodians, reportedly feel that the French offer will lead to actual negotiations. However, the Cambodian monarch, King Norodom Sihanouk, has threatened war against the French unless his demands for full independence are met.

The French proposals received official U. S. backing and Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru welcomed them as "a good step."

A State Department communique issued in Washington expressed the belief "that the way is open for relationships firmly based on mutual interests and common consent which will strengthen the French Union and the ability of the French Union forces to carry on their valiant struggle against Communist aggression."

The French and their associated Indochinese states have been battling Communist-led Viet Minh guerrillas for the past seven years. Nehru, a long-time critic of French colonial policy, welcomed the new French offer in a speech yesterday opening a policy conference of his governing All-India Congress party.

"I do not know the details yet," he declared. "I do not know how it will work, but it is a good step. I am convinced that this movement in Indochina is essentially a nationalistic fight for freedom."

The Indian Premier, however, questioned why France had not made similar offers to Tunisia and Morocco, her two North African protectorates. Agitation for independence has led to widespread disorders in both areas.

Couple Escapes Possible Death

ROGERS (UP) — A Lowell, Ark., couple thanked their lucky stars today after escaping death or serious injury when a freight train demolished their car.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Dickson leaped to safety after their auto stalled at a grade crossing and they watched a Frisco freight train carry the car 54 feet.

The accident happened at Lowell yesterday.

Government May Close Several Defense Plants

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN

WASHINGTON (UP) — Defense Mobilization Secretary Arthur S. Flemming said today the government may shut down some "secondary" defense plants and put others on a standby basis for reasons of economy.

But he said these moves would not mean that the Eisenhower administration has abandoned the idea of maintaining a "broad base" for industrial mobilization in case of war.

The "broad base" plan, fostered by former Defense Secretary George C. Marshall under the Truman administration, calls for dividing defense contracts among a large number of plants so that production could be stepped up swiftly in an emergency.

There have been reports that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson considers this an inefficient and expensive system, and that he favors concentrating arms orders in a few large plants. Industry has been watching closely to see whether the Eisenhower administration would adopt this policy of "narrowing" the mobilization base.

The race cancellation of Air Force contracts with the Kaiser Motor Corp. was widely interpreted as a sign that the so-called Wilson plan had triumphed.

But Flemming's office of Defense Mobilization issued a cabinet-approved policy statement yesterday which appeared to stick by the existing "broad base" program.

This impression was reinforced by Flemming's explanatory statements to a reporter today.

He said the Kaiser cancellation was a "management problem within the purview of the Air Force," and added that "it may be necessary to close" other so-called secondary arms plants "for various reasons."

Oil Firms Are Accused by Probers

By PAUL SOUTHWICK

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. John W. Heselton (R-Mass.) today accused the oil industry of setting off another inflationary spiral that will hamper the administration's drive to "get some economic sense into the country."

Heselton made the charge at a House Commerce Committee hearing. The committee is investigating a recent series of gasoline and oil price increases which have sent retail gasoline prices up three cents a gallon in some parts of the country.

He told Herbert Willetts, vice president of Socony-Vacuum Oil Co.:

"You stand definitely convicted of contributing to another spiral which will make this administration's job much more difficult. If you can't get your stockholders to agree to stop this inflationary spiral, how do you expect others? You are a leader."

Chairman Charles A. Wolvertan (R-N.J.) accused top oil industry officials of living in an "ivory tower" unaware of the effects of their recent price increases. He told Willetts that high oil officials "don't know the facts of life to the extent we do who buy the gasoline."

Says Rhee Playing With Dynamite

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) declared today South Korean President Syngman Rhee is "playing with global dynamite" and damaging the cause of world peace by balking efforts for a Korean truce.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a statement that Rhee's threat to carry on the fighting invites a possible military disaster which "could shatter the chances for world peace in our time."

"The brave South Korean boys who are holding two-thirds of the battle line today could be rash independent action — taking a suicidal offensive and severing themselves from the United Nations," Wiley declared.

"A military disaster in Korea would mean a political disaster from which the U. N. might never recover. This could shatter the chances for world peace in our time. President Rhee has been playing with global dynamite," spokesman for free peoples.

Arkansan Settles Income Tax Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Bureau said today it has settled for $20,015.33 its claims against J. B. McClurkin, former county judge of Columbia County, Ark., for unpaid federal income taxes for the years 1941 through 1943.

The government had claimed that McClurkin owed this amount of taxes plus interest and penalties to bring it to a total of $41,303.

The current in a review filed in connection with the settlement said the case involved money received by McClurkin while he was serving as county judge.

State Officials Not Bound by Fiscal Code

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry has held that the state's constitutional officers—with the exception of the governor—are not required to abide by purchasing provisions of the state's new Fiscal Code.

The opinion said that these officers, however, may take advantage of the purchasing provisions if they wish.

The fiscal code outlines financial and purchase procedures for the state and gives the director of finance broad powers.

It contains a provision whereby mass purchases may be made for most state departments but does not require that the constitutional officers get their supplies through these joint purchases.

The opinion went to Secretary of State C. G. Hall, Auditor J. Oscar Humphrey, Treasurer Vance Clayton, Land Commissioner Claude Rankin and Finance Director Frank Storey.

46 Germans Reported Executed

By JOSEPH FLEMING

BERLIN (UP) — Red firing squads were reported today to have executed 46 East German policemen for participating in the workers' revolt against Communist rule last month.

The West Berlin newspaper Telegraph said Red Army courts convicted 15 policemen officers and 31 enlisted men of mutiny and "resistance against the Soviet army," and had them shot.

Another 578 German policemen were sentenced to long prison terms on similar charges, according to the Telegraph.

The report could not be confirmed but Western Allied officials said thousands of police joined the rebellion in East Germany and tens of thousands stood by passively and made no move to suppress the anti-Communist uprising.

Allied officials said the conduct of the police during the demonstrations proved to the Soviets that they could not rely on the 120,000-man strong police army. These officials said Russian distrust probably is the reason the East German Communist regime called a halt to its remilitarization campaign.

East Germans convicted of leading the rebellion were reported facing possible deportation to the Soviet Union.

Sees Profits Tax Approval Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) predicted today a conference with President Eisenhower today that the House Ways and Means Committee will approve a bill tomorrow to extend the excess profits tax for six months.

Martin made the prediction to newsmen after he and other GOP congressional leaders had reviewed the legislative program at a 75-minute White House session.

The excess profits measure has been blocked in the Ways and Means Committee for weeks because of the refusal of Chairman Reed (R-N.Y.) to call a meeting of the group.

Reed now has set a session of the committee for tomorrow morning, however, and Martin said he believes there are enough votes in the group to send the measure to the House floor.

Reed agreed to a meeting only after House leaders went over his head to the Rules Committee, which voted to bypass the ways and means group and call the bill to the floor for debate.

6,000 Fanatical Chinese Charge Allied Positions

By ROBERT GIBSON

SEOUL (AP) — Chinese Communists intensified day-long assaults on two Allied positions in Western Korea tonight as they hurled some 6,000 men in a fanatical attack against weary American and South Korean troops.

In what front line officers said was possibly the forerunner of full division attacks, the Reds hurled about 3,000 men each against Pork Chop Hill and Arrowhead Ridge, five miles to the southwest.

Earlier today, infantrymen of the U. S. Seventh Division on Pork Chop and ROK Second Division troops on Arrowhead slammed back repeated attacks of some 3,000 Chinese.

The later attacks — described by front-line officers as suicidal assaults — pushed the Americans and South Koreans back momentarily north of Yonchon.

SEOUL (AP) — More than 3,000 Chinese snarled four days of rainy silence on the Korean battlefield today with savage attacks against American and South Korean troops guarding hill positions on the Western Front.

Three beefed-up Red battalions charged through ankle-deep mud up the slopes of Pork Chop Hill and Arrowhead Ridge, about five miles apart.

The furious battles, fought in water-soaked trenches with pistols, gun bolts and knives, opened late last night as the Reds boomed thousands of artillery and mortar barrages against the hills.

But after hours of fighting in which Chinese surged up and down the slopes of both outposts, infantrymen of the U. S. 7th Division and ROK 2nd Division were reported holding stubbornly.

Pork Chop Hill, defended by American troops, took the brunt of the Red attack, the first against U. S. troops since the Communists hit the 3rd Division June 18 at Outpost Harry north of Seoul.

Many Books Placed Back on Shelves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has directed its overseas libraries to put back on the shelves many volumes removed during the recent purge of books by Communist and controversial authors.

Officials who disclosed this order said the books still banned were named in two master lists, the last of which was dispatched last week to the approximately 180 libraries in foreign cities. Instructions were to restore volumes not specifically named.

Although the lists have not been made public, informants who may not be named indicated they included more than 50 titles. That would mean the restoration of perhaps more than 50 titles. Officials have said old copies of 300 or more book titles by about 18 authors had been removed. Eleven, reportedly were literally banned.

Nobody was found near the rig which was destroyed along with 800 gallons of mash.

Disagreement With Ike Means Little

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders apparently don't have to agree with President Eisenhower on all major issues to remain on the Republican administration's team.

Two important members of the legislative squad have come up with criticisms in the last few days but the betting odds are long that the President will ignore the incidents in the interest of future cooperation.

First Sen. Taft of Ohio, the majority leader, termed "too wide open" an administration proposal to give the President authority to dispose of government-held farm surpluses to Allied foreign nations.

Taft predicted no such authority would be given.

Then Sen. Knowland of California, acting GOP floor leader while Taft is sidelined with a hip ailment and also chairman of the party policy committee, said South Korean President Syngman Rhee had not been sufficiently consulted in advance about truce terms by either the Truman or Eisenhower administrations.

Morse Blocks Return of State Lands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) yesterday prevented the Senate from considering a bill which would return seven acres of land in Monroe County to Arkansas.

The bill, by Arkansas Rep. Mills, already has passed the House. It came up in the Senate on the consent calendar — a procedure in which one senator's objection can block immediate passage.

Morse said he desired to study the bill to see if it meets what he terms the "Morse formula" in transfer of federal lands to states and cities. He insists that the federal government either receive payment or a trade of land in return.

Red Answer to UN Truce Plan Likely Today

By ERNEST HOBERECHT

SEOUL, Korea, Wednesday (UP) — The Communists may tell the United Nations command today whether they will sign a truce without South Korea if necessary — and without the return of 27,000 anti-Red prisoners released by President Syngman Rhee.

The Communists late yesterday called a meeting of liaison officers at the Panmunjon truce center for tomorrow (11 p. m. Tuesday EDT).

The meeting will be held exactly two years after the first meeting of liaison officers at Kaesong to get the truce talks going.

Presumably the Communists will give their answer today to the proposal of Gen. Mark W. Clark to go ahead with the truce talks. There is expected to meet again today with President Eisenhower's special truce expediter here.

Rhee, meanwhile, told United Press his talks with American truce expediter Walter Robertson still are deadlocked but he is willing to accept "any plan which will guarantee Korea's survival."

The Communists called the liaison meeting shortly after Robertson postponed his conference with the aged South Korean president today, possibly because he was awaiting word from Washington.

President May Send Nixon on Tour of East

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is contemplating sending Vice President Nixon on a trip to Asia as a goodwill ambassador after Congress adjourns.

Although plans still are in the formative stage, those who report of the President's intention said the State Department is working on an itinerary which would take the vice president to most of the non-Communist countries in the Far East in what might wind up eventually as a trip around the world.

Eisenhower was said to be well pleased by results obtained by Secretary of State Dulles and Mutual Security Director Harold Stassen on a recent trip to the Near East. The President apparently believes Nixon could help lion out some rough spots in U. S. relations with Asiatic countries.

Stuttgart Soldier Dies in Wreck

RUSSELLVILLE, Mo. — A Stuttgart soldier, home on a holiday furlough, was killed yesterday in an automobile collision while enroute to visit a girl friend.
Pfc. Lomile Belcher was injured fatally in the crash a few miles west of here on Highway 64. Belcher died last night in a Russellville hospital.

Storm Damages Buildings at Russellville

RUSSELLVILLE, Mo. — A severe wind and thunderstorm, while it damaged some 20 downtown buildings, isolated this West Central Arkansas town in a wall of silence last night, penetrated only by kam radio signals.

The roof of the West Arkansas Telephone Company exchange was ripped away, exposing the switchboard to heavy rains and causing damage to the equipment estimated at $60,000.

No one was reported injured in the storm, which struck about 8:30 p. m.

Damage apparently was confined to the downtown section, where the roof of the Missouri Pacific railway station was reported blown about a block, and to a western residential section.

Charles Sheppard Jr., a Russellville amateur radio operator, described the details of the damage to little Rock hams after first word of the destruction was carried to Clarksville police, by a radioist. Clarksville is some 25 miles west of here.

LITTLE ROCK — There's an old football axiom that must not be making Houston Wyatt's sleep any more restful these hot summer nights.

Experts long have said that a football team is never stronger than its ends.

And Mr. Wyatt, as you know, is head football coach at the University of Arkansas, where when ends are mentioned, they talk about the past — not the future. Winston, liked Wear, Schomover, Jimmy Benton, Ray Hamilton, Red Hickey and Alton Baldwin aren't easily forgotten, especially when there's no present counterpart.

Mr. Wyatt's situation at end was hard enough in spring practice this year. Then, the grades were posted at the end of the semester and the picture grew even darker. J. W. Lundermilk, a big and rugged junior who looked to be about the best all-around offensive and defensive wingman, failed to make scholastic marks good enough to keep him eligible for the 1933 season.

That leaves one known, probably starting end — Lloyd Sagerly, basketball player with sticky fingers that make for good pass receiving and a fiery competitor who has proved his defensive ability as a TOP — Cora Combs, Nashville, Tenn., stalks across the Coliseum ring with Terry Majors, Cincinnati, Ohio, draped over her shoulders. Although the pictures appear to give Miss Combs the best of it, final victory went to Miss Majors, two out of three falls.

MIDDLE LEFT — Combs has Majors down, with the help of an obviously illegal hand on the ringside rope.

MIDDLE RIGHT — Combs has Majors tied up in the center of the ring.

BOTTOM — This time Majors has Combs on the canvas. Zais F. 1.5 tent, wide open at 1:25 second — and no flashbulb. Actually the lighting would have permitted stepping up the exposure to 1:20th second.

Therefore, if your camera has an F 3.5 lens you can make pictures at 1:50th second, or with an F 4.5 lens at 1:30th second — without flashbulb. Of course you will have to use the fastest film, either Eastman's Super XX or Ansco's Superpan Press (Ultra-Speed in 35 mm.)

Huddleston in 7th Victory of Season

Behind the three-hit hurling of Reeder Huddleston the Hope team racked up its 15th league win last night with the rousing 16-0 score over Red River Tomsies.

Huddleston helped the cause with a home run in the fifth while triples were batted out by Martin and Hopson. It was Huddleston's seventh win and he allowed only three hits, struck out 16 and walked only five. Dave Ward, the loser, gave up 12 runs on ten hits and his relief, Emerson, gave up four runs on seven hits.

Wednesday night the Legionnaires go to Nashville for a non-league contest and Friday night they go to D&Z for a game.
